

Have you ever looked at something through a magnifying glass or a microscope? When something is magnified, you can see so much more detail than you can just looking at it with your normal eyes. In fact, when you see something that's magnified, sometimes it becomes very difficult to figure out what you are actually looking at because that small section looks completely different than seeing the whole object at once!

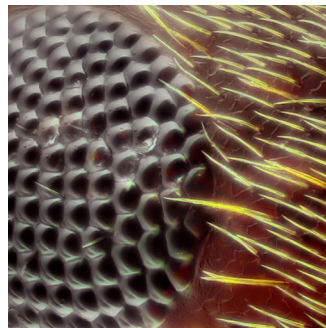

There's no question that God's world is amazing. One of the main reasons is because He pays attention to even the teeniest, tiniest detail. Take a look at these extreme macro closeups and see if you can guess what they are.
